Summary

Information relating to the contribution that an industry makes to the Australian economy is crucial in the preparation of industry policies but also for decision-makers responding to industry applications for expansion as it provides context for the industry within the whole of Australian agriculture. This allows an industry to clearly articulate the contribution it makes to the economy and therefore provides weight to development applications for new and expanding farms.

The current information relating to the economic contribution of the Australian chicken meat industry is not current or comprehensive. This project aims to estimate the economic impact of the chicken meat industry and to identify local and national issues that may impact on the industry in the future.

This project requires close consultation with key chicken meat industry companies to collate and assess actual data for the 2017/18 period.
